THE NEW GERMAN TARIFF.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Commercial Conflict with America Altogether Unlikely.

IFROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU. Washington, July 31.-All immediate dread of a tariff war with Germany, on account of that country's new schedules, which go into operation on March 1 next year, is apt to disappear after calm disideration of an authoritative statement on the sibject which was issued to-day from the Statistiral Purcon of the Department of Commerce and Labor, presenting the whole matter as it affects the products of the United States, in tabular form, which is repraduced below.

It is to be observed at the outset that the new of imposes no duty whatever on the chief item of German import from the United States, raw con which now constitutes more than one-half of the total exports of this country to Germany. Copper, which ranks third in importance of American exports to Germany, and oil cake, which comes eighth, are also free of duty in the new tariff, and tobacco, which comes seventh, pays exsetly the same rate as under the old or existing tariff. Lard, kerosene, corn and wheat, ranking, respectively, second, fourth, fifth and sixth, are slightly increased in the maximum schedules of the new law, but are not changed from existing rates in the minimum or treaty sched-In fact, scarcely anything has been increased in the new minimum schedules, but, on the many material reductions have been It is furthermore not at all certain yet that the United States is not going to enjoy these minimum schedules, under our "most favored nation" treaty, which cannot be terminated without a conventional rates of duty fixed by the commercial treaties of 1891-'N, between Germany and the seven countries mentioned above, were granted to this country, in consideration of the reduction of duties on imports into the United States from Germany of arvols, brandies, wines, paintings and statuary, authorized by Section 3 of the Dingley Act of 1897. This agreement may be terminated by either country at any time upon giving three months' previous notice. There is, moreover, a "most favored nation" treaty between the United States and Prussia, concluded in 1828; this treaty may be terminated upon one year's notice.

The importance of the United States to German foreign commerce is seen from the fact that in the calendar year 1908 this country held first rank among the nations from which Germany receives its imports and third rank among countries of destination of German exports, while in the foreign commerce of the United States Germany was outranked only by Great Britain both in our exports and imports. The total exports of Germany to foreign countries increased from $756,000,000 in 1891, the year of the adoption of commercial treaties, to $1,343,000,000 in the year 1904, an increase of about 65 per cent. In the same period the imports of the United States from Germany increased from $97,000,000 in the fiscal year 1891 to $109,000,000 in 1904, or only about 32 per cent. The exports from this country to Germany increased in the same years from $83,000,000 to $215,000,000, or more than 131 per cent. The principal exports from the United States to Germany in the fiscal year 1904, according to the latest accounts of the Bureau of Statistics, were Unmanufactured cotton, $109,000,000; breadstuffs, over $16,000,000; provisions, about $21,500,000; manufactures of copper, $11,335,000; mineral oils, $9,000,000; fron and steel manufactures, about $5,000,000; unmanufactured tobacco, about $5,000,000; wood and manufactures, about $4,500,600; oil cake and meal, about $4,000,000; fertilizers, about $2,500,000, and agricultural implements, about $1,500,000. The leading imports into the United States from Germany in the fiscal year 1904 were: Chemicals over $16,000,000; cotton manufactures, over $14,000,000; iron and steel manufactures, about $5,500,000; manufactures of silk, about $6,000,000; toys, $4,500,000; earthen and china ware, $4,375,000; manufactures of wool, about $3,333,000, and various articles too numerous to mention in a brief discussion. The following table presents the value of some o the principal articles exported from the United States to Germany in the last fiscal year, the rates of duty now in force in Germany and the so-called "autonomous" and "conventional" rates to go into force on March 1, 1906. The latter rates apply to imports from all countries which by that date will have concluded new commercial reciprocal tariffs or conventions with Germany, or to which the "most favored nation" treatment will be accorded,

Kenosha Tannery To Be Turned Over to Allied Interests.

Milwaukee, July 31.—A "Wisconsin" special dispatch from Kenosha, Wis., says: Articles of incorporation were filed at Madison to-day for the N. R. Allen Sons Tannery Company, of Kenosha. The capital stock is $800,000, and the incorporators are Charles W. Allen, Nathan R. Allen, jr., and Edward C. Thiera. It is generally believed that this is the first step in turning over the big Keno-sha tannery, the largest independent tannery in the world, to the allied leather interests.

RIVAL 'CHANGE DORMANT.

Jersey Organization May Never Open for Business.

The New-Jersey Stock Exchange, organized last spring by members of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange of this city, to afford facilities for trading in stocks without liability under the Stock Transfer Tax law, which became operative in this State on June 1, seems likely never to be opened for the transaction of business.

One of the directors of the proposed concern said yesterday that the scheme was dormant, at best, and that the prospect of reviving it was not encouraging. At least 125 members would be necessary to make the exchange a success, he continued, but it had not been possible cess, he continued, but it had not been possible to get more than between eighty or ninety names on the list. It had been planned to established the principal trading room of the exchange in Jersey City, with perhaps one or two branches in cities of New-Jersey.

The New-Jersey Stock Exchange was incorporated at Trenton on April 25. The directors were W. E. Valentine, R. M. Jarvis, A. R. Hawley, A. De Cordova, F. H. Nightingale, L. N. Morgenstern, Marcus Heim, L. B. Wilson and N. Farrelly, all of whom, except Mr. Farrelly, were in the list of members of the Consolidated Exchange. The directors organized by the election of M. E. de Agnero as president and A. R. Hawley as treasurer. The management of the Consolidated Exchange has never formally placed the projected exchange under its ban or sought to discipline its own members who were interested in the new organization, but there have been unofficial utterances of disapproval of the New-Jersey enterprise.

TO TEST NEW BRIDGE.

Doubts Concerning Newtown Creek Structure Will Be Set at Rest.

Whether the two leaves of the new lift bridge over Newtown Creek, connecting Long Island City with Greenpoint, and which has cost the city $1,000,000, will come together is to be decided by a test to be made at 10:30 o'clock this morning by engineers of the Department of Bridges. The bridge was to have been completed on August 1, 1904, and the first test to use it will be made just a year later. There have been many delays in the work, for which the contractor, the United Engineering and Contracting Company, disclaims any responsibility. It asserts that one long delay was due to the city's failure to secure the necessary land for the new bridge, by condemnation proceedings, in time for the work to proceed as the contract specified. It was reported recently that the two leaves It was reported recently that the two leaves of the bridge would not fit properly. They are to meet and lock together in a way to sustain the weight of heavy traffic. From what could be learned, the plans for the bridge did not allow for expansion of the Iron by the heat, and when the two leaves were lowered it was found that they were too long. Ever since that test only one leaf has been lowered at a time. The engineers believe that they have made the necessary changes to permit the bridge to operate properly, and it is to be tested this morning to determine that fact before the final work is done that will allow it to be thrown open to public travel.

BIG ICEBOX STOLEN.

allow it to be thrown open to public travel.

Refrigerator Weighing Two Hundred Pounds Taken from Store.

A refrigerator weighing 200 pounds was stolen from the cellar of a store at 116th-st. and 2d-ave. on Saturday, and Benjamin Borowitz, a secondhand dealer, at 115th-st. and 2d-ave., was arraigned in the Harlem court yesterday charged with re-ceiving the stolen goods. He was held by Magistrate Crane in $500 bail.

James Ronanon and G. Meyer were preparing to open a candy store at 115th-st. and 2d-ave., and moved in fixtures, including a mammoth icebox, 8 by 10 feet in size, and weighing at least two hundred pounds. The icebox they placed in the cellar. When they went to the store to arrange things when they went to the store to arrange things they were astonished to find that the big icebox had disappeared, with the other fixtures. Ronanon visited Borowitz's secondhand store, only a block away, and on the sidewalk, in front of the store, he saw his icebox, marked for sale.

Ronanon went to the East lotth-st. police station and told his story. Magistrate Crane afterward issued a warrant for the arrest of Borowitz.

REMOVED BY HIGGINS.

Ulster Poor Superintendent Was Too Extravagant.

Albany, July 31 .- On charges of misconduct and malfeasance preferred by the Board of Supervisors, Governor Higgins to-day removed Abram Sammons from the office of Superintendent of the Poor of Ulster County. The Governor, in an opinion accompanying the order of removal, says:

companying the order of removal, says:

I do not find that Sammons was an intentional wrongdoer. His conception of his duties as a public official is aptly stated in his own words, addressed to an inspector of the State Board of Charities at the county house about January 22, 1904, to the effect that he did not care for any member of the State Board of Charities or of the Board of Supervisors, as he had been elected by the people, and was responsible to the people only. This primitive notion of the public official as an elective despot making a law unto himself to guide his conduct and relying on personal popularity to retain him in power unfits Sammons for office and compels me to remove him.

Charges against Sammons were filed last March with the Governor, who on April 1 appointed Judge Egburt W. Woodbury, of Jamestown, a commis-Egburt W. Woodbury, of Jamestown, a commis-sioner to investigate. The removal is made upon the strength of his report. From this report, says the Governor, it appears that Sammons drew on county moneys for various amounts aggregating over $4,700 for private purposes, not all of which apparently has been returned. He conducted his office in an extravagant manner, and the expense of maintaining the county's poor increased $7,000 in a year. The Rev. Newberry O. Halsted, superintendent of the St. Johnland Home, at Kings Park, Long Island, who went to Washington while his mind was temporarily unbalanced, came to New-York yesterday, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Weyman Walker. Mrs. Halsted met her husband at the station, and they went at once to a special ist in mental diseases, who advised Mr. Halsted to take a complete rest and to spend at least part of the time in a sanatorium.

Mr. Halsted went to a sanatorium on Long Island. Some of his friends said they thought it was peculiar that, while Mr. Halsted's sisters in was peculiar that, while Mr. Halsted's sisters in Washington said he was with them for a week, Mrs. Halsted was not informed until Sunday. They believe that, in his wanderings, he went South until he reached Atlanta, and from there went to Washington. They think that this partly explains the lack of information as to Mr. Halsted's wanderings, While he is in the sunatorium none of Mr. Halsted's friends will see him. They will wait until he requests to see them before visiting him.
